

CLASSIC INTERIOR DESIGNER LADY HENRIETTA SPENCER-CHURCHILL TO SHARE TALES OF BLENHEIM PALACE AT 50TH ANNUAL DELAWARE ANTIQUES SHOW

Top-Rated Show Also to Feature Celebrated English Garden Expert and Author Barbara Paul Robinson

Winterthur, DE—Anglophiles and antiques lovers will converge at the Chase Center on the Riverfront, Wilmington, Delaware, November 8–10 for the 50th Annual Delaware Antiques Show. More than 60 of the finest dealers from the United States and beyond make this one of the top five shows in the country, and this year's featured lecturers promise to take guests on an unforgettable transcontinental tour.

Honorary chair and keynote speaker Lady Henrietta Spencer-Churchill is the eldest daughter of the 11th Duke of Marlborough, John George Vanderbilt Henry Spencer-Churchill. A prolific author and lecturer on classic design and entertaining, she has designed homes for nobility, celebrities, and others who treasure fine taste with a classic and functional aesthetic. She studied at the Inchbald School of Design before forming the internationally acclaimed Woodstock Designs and Spencer-Churchill Designs. Her most recent book is The Life of the House: How Rooms Evolve.

Lady Henrietta grew up in the legendary Blenheim Palace in Oxfordshire, a 187-room palace considered one of the most important Baroque houses in England. The birthplace of such notables as Winston Churchill, Blenheim Palace also was occupied by Lady Henrietta's colorful and illustrious great-grandmother, Consuelo Vanderbilt, a close friend of Winterthur founder Henry Francis du Pont and his wife Ruth.

Despite a title that some may find intimidating, Lady Henrietta is known as a warm, gracious, down-to-earth speaker with a deep passion for antiques, design, and historic architecture. She will delight visitors to the Delaware Antiques Show with tales of life in this legendary landmark, drawing on her personal experiences as a child and adult. In 2005, she wrote a best-selling historical and anecdotal account of her homestead and family, Blenheim and the Churchill Family: A Personal Portrait.

When asked by Palm Beach Illustrated what the walls of Blenheim would say if they could talk, Lady Henrietta replied, "I think it would be like listening to an historical novel with lots of intrigue, drama, and fun depicting the life of the different family generations and their guests over the last 300 years, i.e., a Blenheim Downton Abbey."

Lady Henrietta's keynote address will open the Delaware Antiques Show on Friday, November 8 at 10:00 am with a book signing to follow.

Lady Henrietta, Delaware Governor Jack Markell and First Lady Carla Markell are honorary chairs of the 50th Annual Delaware Antiques Show.

On Sunday, November 10, lovers of the traditional English garden will be captivated by speaker Barbara Paul Robinson beginning at 2:00 pm. While on sabbatical from her professional life as the first woman partner in the leading international law firm of Debevoise & Plimpton, Robinson worked as a gardener for Rosemary Verey at Barnsley House, Gloucestershire, then for Penelope Hobhouse at Tintinhull, Somerset, experiences she found life transforming. In fact, she credits this time with soon thereafter becoming the first woman president of the New York City Bar.

Robinson's own home, Brush Hill, is an 18th-century farmhouse in northwestern Connecticut surrounded by her own interpretation of the English garden. It is included in the Smithsonian Archives of American Gardens, a testament to Robinson's role as the hands-in-the-dirt gardener and her husband's role as designer and builder of the garden structures.

Robinson's lecture will focus on the fascinating life of English garden legend Rosemary Verey. Although she began gardening late in life, Verey achieved international recognition for her devotion to the "English style" on display at her home at Barnsley House in the Cotswolds of England. She was a garden adviser to clients from Prince Charles to Elton John and is a beloved and wildly popular lecturer in America. Robinson has written the first, and so far, only biography of Verey's remarkable life, Rosemary Verey: The Life and Lessons of a Legendary Gardener.

A book signing will follow Robinson's Sunday lecture.

These two intriguing women will bring their unique backgrounds and common passions to the Chase Center as part of the 50th Anniversary of Winterthur's Delaware Antiques Show, a spectacular showcase of art, antiques, and design.

The show also will feature a special exhibition, Collecting Treasures: Celebrating 50 Years of the Delaware Antiques Show, featuring objects acquired by Winterthur Museum and friends of Winterthur during the half-century run of this highly acclaimed antiques show. From a gothic pattern bedcover and an armorial porcelain plate to an anti-slavery seal and an Uncle Sam figure, this exhibit will highlight treasures that celebrate the joy of collecting for personal and public enjoyment.

Proceeds from the show benefit educational programming at Winterthur.
